Plant Feature: Pothos Marble Queen

Bring bold contrast and elegant variegation to interior spaces with the Pothos Marble Queen, a stunning trailing plant that blends creamy white marbling with golden-yellow tones across rich green foliage. This elevated take on a classic pothos delivers a brighter, more refined aesthetic while maintaining the same easy-care reliability interiorscapers depend on. Its unique coloration and adaptable growth habit make it a standout choice for both modern and traditional plant designs.

Why you'll love it:

-  A Designer Favorite with Elevated Variegation: Pothos Marble Queen offers a more intricate and high-contrast look than traditional golden pothos, making it a premium choice for interiorscaping projects that call for added visual interest.
-  Striking Multi-Tone Foliage: Each leaf showcases a dynamic blend of green, creamy white, and golden-yellow variegation. No two leaves are exactly alike, creating a natural, artful display that brightens any space.
-  Versatile Trailing or Climbing Habit: This variety adapts effortlessly to multiple design applications, including:
 - A trailing plant from shelves or hanging baskets
 - A climbing plant on moss poles or trellises
 - A tabletop or desk plant with controlled, compact growth
-  Lush Growth with Strong Visual Impact: Pothos Marble Queen grows steadily and fills in beautifully, offering a full, cascading look that softens interiors and adds dimension over time.
-  Adaptable to Various Light Conditions: This plant performs well across a wide range of lighting environments.
 - Low light: Maintains growth, variegation may be less pronounced
 - Medium light: Ideal for balanced growth and healthy color
 - Bright indirect light: Enhances variegation and promotes faster growth
-  Forgiving Water Needs: Allow soil to dry slightly between waterings. Like other pothos varieties, it tolerates occasional missed watering, making it perfect for maintenance programs and busy plant owners.
-  Durable and Resilient: Its sturdy leaves hold up well in high-traffic environments, maintaining a clean, vibrant appearance with minimal upkeep.

Size: We sell Pothos Marble Queen in 6-inch pots, ideal for both tabletop use or hanging displays. With proper care, vines can trail or climb 6–10 feet or longer, depending on how the plant is maintained and styled.

Additional Names: Marble Queen Pothos, Variegated Devil’s Ivy, Epipremnum aureum (marble/golden variegation)

Perfect for:

Commercial interiors, office spaces, shelving and cabinetry, hanging installations, residential interiors, and any project requiring a fast-growing, low-maintenance plant that adds striking color and movement.

Additional Information:

Pothos Marble Queen is highly resilient and adaptable, making it a dependable choice across a wide range of environments. It typically experiences minimal pest issues, though occasional spider mites or mealybugs may appear. Routine inspection and care will keep plants healthy and thriving.

Grower’s tip:

- Remove from grow pot and place directly into a planter or a larger pot for better moisture retention and you won’t have to water it as often
- Trim vines regularly to encourage fuller growth
- Can be propagated easily from cuttings in water
- Performs best in medium to high light but can tolerate low light
- Allow soil to dry slightly between waterings

Pairs well with:

Zamioculcas zamiifolia, Aglaonema, Philodendron, compact palms, and dracaena varieties that contrast nicely with its bright variegation and trailing form.
